The artist understands that all art is displayed outdoors and unprotected. While the Downtown Art Project attempts to carefully place sculptures in safe locations, it is not possible to guarantee that a piece will not be stolen, discolored, broken or otherwise damaged by weather, vandals, accidents or other hazards during installation, display or removal. Insurance coverage is provided but subject to limitations. As evidenced by submission of this entry form, the artist agrees to repair or allow to be repaired any damage which does not exceed the Downtown Art Project's insurance deductible. In the event that such repairs cannot restore the piece, the artist agrees to accept valuation as determined by the insurance carrier as full payment for any partial or total loss and to hold the Downtown Art Project, its board members, volunteers, donors, contractors and any participating organizations harmless from any further claims.
